

Online shopping is now replacing shopping in the store. Do you think ~~it~~ this is a positive or negative development?

In recent years, it has become far more convenient ~~tee~~ for people to shop, especially after the boom of e-commerce platforms. In my opinion, this trend ~~could have~~ has both positive and negative consequences in equal measure.

In my opinion, even though online shopping has a positive economic impact, it is an overall negative development because of the potential for abuse.

The rise in online shopping can be viewed/seen as positive for both personal and broader economic reasons. On an individual level, ~~people~~ consumers who shop online can buy ~~the most~~ more cost-efficient products than those who shop in the physical store. ~~Various business owners are conducted via the Internet.~~ In recent decades, the appearance of large online shopping websites ranging from Amazon and Alibaba to Ebay and Taobao have allowed ~~which means customers~~ customers to ~~could~~ make ~~their~~ informed decisions after comparing the price, payment method and delivery options, all of which are essential factors ~~in a deal~~ coming to a final decision. ~~An increase in the number of such reasons can~~ All these reasons combine can certainly be seen as a positive development. From an economic perspective, the trend towards shopping online will result in ~~more~~ greater job opportunities. As the demand for delivery ~~is improving~~ grows, express companies are likely to ~~produce~~ generate more employment positions.

However, I would argue that these ~~drawbacks~~ benefits are outweighed by the ~~benefits~~ drawbacks. Firstly, customers ~~can be aware~~ are unable to be sure of the quality of a given purchase until ~~what they have bought exactly until they~~ receives the material product itself. ~~And~~ The majority of all of the business owners ~~put efforts~~ prioritise on publicity campaigns, often to the detriment of the product. ~~even though the products are less than satisfactory.~~ But advertisements in fact are designed to attract customers and that can lead to misleading marketing practices. For example, many corporations in China ~~... are tempting enough that could mislead consumers.~~ Secondly, when it comes to safeguarding consumer rights and interests, online regulation is ~~are~~ always much harder than offline. While this may benefit some businesses, as for customer, they ~~still~~ are faced with ~~consumptive problems~~ a wide array of problems related to online shopping.

Comment [Dave1]: just need one main idea

Comment [Dave2]: vocabulary around band 7

Comment [Dave3]: band 4 for TA

Comment [Dave4]: good vocab!

Comment [Dave5]: overall side

Formatted: Font: Bold

Comment [Dave6]: excellent – band 7 – good CC, strong vocabulary – good grammar

Comment [Dave7]: convenience

Comment [Dave8]: on an individual level, shopping online allows consumers to browse and compare a variety of products to seek out the best deals and save money.

Comment [Dave9]: add in an extra adjective to make it a stronger collocation that can

Comment [Dave10]: decisive factors in making a purchase.

Comment [Dave11]: much stronger writing – much better vocabulary and grammar

Comment [Dave12]: no need – better if you can just continue your example – online shopping is good for disabled people, elderly people - pandemic

Comment [Dave13]: no need – this sentence doesn't help your score so better to develop more specifically – more specific – what's the result? what's the result for different groups of people

Comment [Dave14]: more academic

Comment [Dave15]: 2 children – just a little attention for each. 1 child – you can give full ...

Comment [Dave16]: alibaba

Comment [Dave17]: a little support, no ...

Comment [Dave18]: much better paragraph ...

Comment [Dave19]: no development for this ...

Comment [Dave20]: don't start a sentence ...

Comment [Dave21]: sometimes – not always ...

Comment [Dave22]: too many main ideas – not ...

Comment [Dave23]: a little bit too short

In conclusion, ~~the increase in~~ despite the benefits for convenience of shopping online, the detrimental impact on the consumer experience makes it a negative overall. Governments must legislate online retailers in order to protect the average citizen. ~~– will have both beneficial and detrimental effects on individuals and the economy.~~

Comment [Dave24]: one final thought at the end

Comment [Dave25]: conclusion could be a little longer – try to include a second sentence

Comment [Dave26]: no clear opinion = band 4/5 TA

Comment [Dave27]: aim for 275

235 words

Task achievement: 4

Comment [Dave28]: because there is no clear opinion

Cohesion/Coherence: 6

Vocabulary: 6/7

Grammar: 6

6 / 6.5